

Builders and Bullies

Building up our community is a responsibility we all share. In this game, we take on the challenge of creating community, which will be represented by our boxes. You will build a tower of boxes as quickly as you can. Since social media is a place where we interact at a distance, we will step back from the community we've built and watch what happens when people make choices to hurt others through posts, snaps, and texts. You will quickly see how damaging cyberbullying can be, and then we will give you a chance to be an upstander and rebuild the community.

- Create an Eagle Community using all your boxes
- Back away and allow three students from your Advisory (a.k.a. Cyberbullies) to take turns launching balls at the structure by using a slingshot while the other cyberbullies throw them.
- After Cyberbullies are done, the rest of you will be upstanders and intervene to rebuild the community
